Dear Joel,

Thank you for a hilarious and clever talk about the great game of golf.

Our guests included sophisticated philanthropists, golf-obsessed donors, and people (like me) who think eagles are birds that fly in the sky. By weaving anecdotes, jokes about celebrities, great visuals, and some startling statistics, each guest left entertained and maybe even enlightened!

At our organization, we host a variety of speakers. Thank you for your professionalism; you made the event seamless to execute and easy to enjoy.

Professional speakers are not too hard to find, fascinating storytellers are less abundant. You deliver on both.

Thank you Joel for lending your talents to our cause.

Sincerely,
